Nor I alone—a thousand bosons round Inhale thee in the fullness of delight;
And languid forms rise up, and pulses bound
Liveller, at coming of the wind at night; And languishing to hear thy grateful spund.
Lies vast inland stretched beyond the sight,
Go forth into the gathering shade; go forth,
Gud's blessing breathed upon the fainting earth,

Go, rock the little wood-bird in his nest,
Curl the still waters, bright with stars, and rouse
The wide old wood from his naj-stic rest,
Suramoning from the innumerable boughs
The strange deep harmotties that haunt his breast
Pleasant shall be thy way where meekly bows
The shutting flower, and darkling waters pass,
And where the o'ershadowing branches sweep the grass.

The faint old man shall lean his silver head. To feel thee; thou shalt kiss the child asleep, And dry the moistened curls that overspread His temples, while his breathing grows more deep;
And they who stand about the aick man's bed,
Shall joy to listen to thy distant sweep,
And solity part his curtains to allow
Thy visit, grateful to his burning brow.

Go—but the circle of sternal change,
Which is the life of nature, shall restore,
With sounds and scents from all thy mighty range,
Thee to thy birth-race of the deep once more; Sweet odours in the sea air sweet and strange; Shall that the home sick mariner of the shore; And, tistening to thy murmur, he shall deem fle hears the reatling leaf and running stream.

Scroffula is said to be hereditary, the infant receiving from its parents the seeds of its disease, which increases with its years, if neglected and not submitted to frequent purifications with Dr. Sweetser's Panacea. The glands are placed in the corners of the body, and out of the way of direct communication; their real use is a subject on which much difference of opinion prevails; it suffices to know that when in a diseased state, they are capable of being purified and cleansed by long course of Dr. Sweetser's Panacea.

In cases of Jauridce, Asthma, Liver Com plaints, Tic Doloreux, Rheumatism or Rheumati Gout, Dr. Sweetser's Panacea cannot be too high-ly extolled; it searches out the very root of the lisease, and by removing from it the blood makes a cure certain and permanent.
